Editing Services and Rates

What's Included

My editing project fee covers one pass of the manuscript itself (i.e., reading, markup, margin comments), plus up to 10 brief clarification emails related directly to the edit (generally 150–250 words or 1–3 focused questions per message).

If you'd like additional virtual meetings, in-depth correspondence, or research beyond the scope of the edit, those services are available at $60/hour.

Copyediting (per project)	Developmental Editing (per project)	Bundles (developmental + copyediting)
Light: grammar, spelling, punctuation Full: fixing errors and improving flow, clarity, transitions, word choice Intensive: refining, restructuring, logic checks, removing wordiness, checking uniform tone and style	Includes (by tier) Light: structural feedback, margin comments, editorial letter Full: deep structural analysis, chapter-level guidance, revision roadmap Intensive: comprehensive structural and conceptual coaching, extensive commentary	Bundled pricing may be available for projects that include both developmental editing and copyediting, reflecting efficiencies gained from working with the same manuscript across stages.
	Example pricing (60,000 words)
$1,080–$1,500, depending on light, full, or intensive edit level	$2,100–$4,200, depending on light, full, or intensive edit level	$3,600–$4,000

Pricing Notes

Editing rates are estimated using industry-standard per word pricing (approximately $0.02/word for copyediting and $0.05/word for developmental editing). Final project fees may be adjusted after a brief consultation and manuscript review to confirm the appropriate level of editing.

This rate sheet is intended to provide general guidance.
